

A watercolor illustration on aged, textured paper. The scene depicts a landscape with a horse in the lower left, facing right. The horse is dark brown with a saddle and harness. To the right, a large, bright sun or moon is rendered with concentric circles and a glowing center, surrounded by soft, yellowish washes. The background is filled with various washes of yellow, brown, and blue, suggesting a hazy or dreamlike atmosphere. There are some dark, scribbled lines at the bottom, possibly representing grass or rocks.

Wenn ich sterbe, werde ich träumen ...
